

N.U.in Central Staff

Lauren Kettler 	Assistant Dean, The N.U.in Program Dr. Lauren Kettler is the Assistant Dean for the N.U.in Program at Northeastern University. As the lead administrator for the N.U.in Program, she works in collaboration with the greater university on the development, execution, strategy, and quality assurance of the university's first-semester international freshman program. Dr. Kettler has been with the N.U.in Program since its beginning, in 2008, and has helped grow the program by developing new global partnerships and academic, financial, and student support policies. Additionally, she has lead teams in Boston and staff deployed globally. Dr. Kettler has over fifteen years of experience in higher education, specifically in international education, academic, and student affairs. She holds a Doctorate in Education from the University of Pennsylvania where her research focuses on internationalization strategies in higher education. Her dissertation research focused on external global forces and the impact they have on higher education global strategies. Dr. Kettler also holds a B.S. and M.A. from Northeastern University and an M.Phil from Trinity College Dublin, all in political science, and is a graduate of the Management Development Program (MDP) at Harvard University's Graduate School of Education.
Benjamin Floman 	Associate Director of Academics, The N.U.in Program Benjamin Floman serves as Associate Director of the N.U.in Program, overseeing the academic operations and administration of the program. In this role, he works closely with all N.U.in Program institutional partners, externally, along with cross-campus partners and departments at Northeastern, internally- such as the Registrar's Office, Admissions, Financial Services, and the Academic Colleges. Through these external and internal partnerships, Benjamin is responsible for identifying and implementing improvements to help ensure the best possible academic experience for students. He has lived in Boston for over a decade and has been part of the Northeastern University community for over 8 years- as an instructor, academic advisor & career coach, administrator, student, and Northeastern Marino Recreation Center pick-up basketball nut. Originally from New Haven, CT, he earned a BA in Economics from the University of Connecticut and a Masters of Education (Ed.M.) from Boston University. He also holds a Graduate Certificate in Business Administration from Northeastern University's D'Amore-McKim School of Business. With a background in international education and intercultural communications, he has spent time both at home and abroad working with faculty, staff, and students. Go Huskies! 🐾
Grant Dauber 	Associate Director of Program Operations & Student Support, The N.U.in Program Grant earned his M.Ed. in Higher Education Administration from Northeastern University's College of Professional Studies. Previously, he taught high school Spanish in Dallas, TX after graduating from the University of Rochester where he earned his B.A. majoring in Anthropology and Spanish. He enjoys supporting students in his current role as Associate Director of the N.U.in Program and looks forward to working with each and every staff member to do the same.
Kate Berge 	Senior Assistant Director, The N.U.in Program, Ireland: UCD Kate is so excited to welcome everyone to the N.U.in Program Team! As a Senior Assistant Director in the Central office, she manages the N.U.in Ireland program and coordinates site staff hiring and training process. Kate has been working with N.U.in year-round for six years now, starting on-site in 2014 at the Greece site, where she most enjoyed boardwalk sunsets and fresh feta cheese! While on site with Ireland: UCD for the 2015 & 2016 semesters, Dublin became a favorite city, full of music, culture and great craic (fun)! Before N.U.in, Kate was living in Northern Michigan, managing residence halls at the Interlochen Arts Academy-a boarding high school for the arts. She moved to Michigan after living in the Turks and Caicos where she managed a study abroad program with The School for Field Studies. Her adaptable nature was challenged during the transition from sun and SCUBA to snow and skiing! Kate has also led summer international student travel programs with Windsor Mountain Student Travel and Global Routes (in Hawaii, Ecuador, South Africa and the Caribbean), taught Environmental Education in Texas, and was an RD on Semester at Sea (a floating university traveling to 13 countries around the world). Kate grew up in Natick, MA and holds a BA in Psychology from Ithaca College. Her Master's degree is from Northeastern in College Student Development and Counseling, where she focused on international education and experiential learning.
Nicole Pepin 	Senior Assistant Director, The N.U.in Program, Boston In the past five years, Nicole has worked in a variety of roles with the N.U.in program and currently serves as the Senior Assistant Director for Marketing and Communications. She is responsible for site management for N.U.in Boston, as well as the program's website, social media, email and print communications. Nicole has previously worked with the N.U.in program overseeing on-ground operations as a Site Lead for Fall 2015 in England and Fall 2016 in Australia. She joined the central staff team in Fall 2017 and since then has worked directly with N.U.in Canada, Italy and England. Originally from Newington, Connecticut, Nicole holds a Bachelors in Psychology from Sacred Heart University and a Masters of Education in Higher Education Administration from the University of Delaware. Nicole's background includes residence life, first-year transitions, service-learning, and leading student travel programs.

Katelin Ryan 	Assistant Director, The N.U.in Program, Boston Katelin graduated from SIT Graduate Institute in August 2015 with a Master's degree in International Education with a focus in experiential education and international program development. She joined the N.U.in program in 2018 as a Program Liaison for N.U.in England: FIE program, before transitioning to Northeastern's Boston campus in 2019 as Assistant Director. This year she will be managing the N.U.in Boston site and looks forward to supporting site staff in our new N.U.in location. Originally from New York, Katelin has lived and worked abroad for so long that she calls many places home. Her first love for international education began while earning her Bachelor's degree in Cinema and Cultural Studies at Stony Brook University, while working in conservation and community programs abroad. She spent seven years working in South Africa, and has since run study abroad programs for high school and university students in over ten countries. She's done everything from 5am bird counts and area transects, to leading a photography expedition alongside National Geographic in New Zealand.
Emily Fiagbedzi 	Assistant Director, The N.U.in Program, Boston Emily has been an Assistant Director with the N.U.in Program for the past two years and managed site operations for the Canada, Ireland, Australia Melbourne, and Australia Sydney programs. She has a M.A. in Higher Education and Student Affairs from the University of Connecticut. Her higher education career experiences include coordinating faculty-led study abroad programs and emergency response, facilitating international student support and immigration, and conducting social impact career advising. She also worked in Ghana, West Africa, for five years in the international development sector on initiatives related to business development, entrepreneurial training, education, and agriculture. It was her undergraduate degree in International Development Studies and Political Science from Calvin College that inspired her deep interest in global affairs and international education. In her free time, she loves going on walks with her husband and son, cooking up new creations, listening to podcasts, and dreaming about future adventures.
Timothy Troy 	Program Coordinator, The N.U.in Program Tim joined the N.U.in team as a Program Coordinator in January of 2018. In his role, Tim assists with staff training, as well as N.U.in's extensive customer service efforts. Prior to joining N.U.in, Tim worked for the international touring company Grand Circle Corporation, where he held various roles in customer service, general administration, training, and sales. He grew up in Manchester, CT, and attended the University of Vermont where he received his B.A. in English. He recently received his MS in Sports Leadership at Northeastern this past June. Outside of work Tim enjoys traveling, hiking, playing sports & chess, and on a good day can name all the countries of the world off the top of his head!
Aisling Wakefield 	Program Liaison, The N.U.in Program, Boston Aisling was born and raised in the San Francisco Bay Area of California. She completed her bachelor's degree in psychology and education at the University of California, Irvine and her master's degree in Postsecondary Administration and Student Affairs at the University of Southern California in Los Angeles. After completing her master's degree, Aisling worked as a Program Manager in Residential Education and Fraternity and Sorority Life at Stanford University where she supervised residential staff in independent living communities designed for upper-class students. This is Aisling's second year as a Program Liaison with the N.U.in Program and she is excited to be joining the team full-time. In her free time, Aisling loves to take barre class, go to brunch, and travel.
Carla Rodriguez 	Program Liaison, The N.U.in Program, Ireland Carla is a native Floridian who earned her B.S in Family, Youth & Community Sciences as well as her M.Ed in Student Personnel in Higher Education from the University of Florida. Her professional experience includes, new student & family programs, first-year and transfer student support, multicultural affairs, study abroad, academic advising, and fraternity & sorority life. She has focused her career on building cultural connections, empowering youth, and building a sense of belonging among students at all educational levels. Carla believes in the power of art to be a bridge for communication, a tool for positive change, and catalyst for community building. She values travel as a way to better understand people, the world, and the stories of others.

Anna Takahama 	Program Liaison, The N.U.in Program, Boston Anna is a first-generation college graduate and daughter of Japanese immigrant parents. She was born in Queens, NY and grew up in Massachusetts - she proudly identifies as a Bostonian (without the accent). Anna graduated from Bridgewater State University in 2008 with a degree in Photography and Northeastern University's College Student Development & Counseling Program (CSDC) in 2011. She has over a decade of higher education and non-profit experience in areas such as Student Involvement, New Student Orientation, Greek Life, Admissions, International Education and serving as faculty for the CSDC program in 2018. Most recently, she served as the Program Liaison for N.U.in Germany in Berlin. In her free time, Anna enjoys photography, being outdoors, finding a good coffee shop and thrifting in a new city.
Ryan Shannon 	Program Liaison, The N.U.in Program, Boston Ryan graduated from Boston College with a B.A. in Theology and Sociology, and an M.A. in Higher Education Administration. Ryan is originally from Fort Salonga, New York on Long Island and loved growing up close to the ocean and the beach (and with the world's best bagels and pizza). Ryan is a proud alumnus of BC and served as an RA and Graduate Resident Director in residential life. He also led international short-term immersion programming in Latin America and the Caribbean for BC's Campus Ministry and academic programs. Prior to his appointment as a Program Liaison with the N.U.in program, Ryan served for two years as the Director of Student Development for The Beijing Center, a Jesuit study abroad center in Beijing, China. N.U.in Program Assistant Program Liaisons

Matthew Connolly 	Assistant Program Liaison, The N.U.in Program Matt has spent the last five years working in residence life at multiple colleges and universities across the country, including Providence, Rhode Island, and Portland, Oregon. As an undergraduate at Saint Michael's College, Matt studied abroad in Geneva, Switzerland, and went on multiple immersion trips across the U.S. and to the Dominican Republic. Inspired by these experiences in the U.S. and around the world, Matt earned a B.A. in international relations, and later earned an M.A. in modern European history. Pre-COVID, Matt enjoyed travel, exploring new cities, and going to the movies, and has used quarantine to read, exercise, brush up on his language skills, and is currently earning a certificate in emergency management.
Danielle Fultz 	Assistant Program Liaison, The N.U.in Program Danielle graduated from the Middlebury Institute of International Studies at Monterey in December 2019 with a master's degree in International Education Management. She is from Athens, Ohio where she completed her undergraduate degree in French and History at Ohio University. Danielle is a life-long lover of traveling, having first lived abroad as an exchange student in Belgium. She has studied and/or worked abroad in France, Israel, Cambodia, and Canada. Danielle has worked with students in many capacities, including as a Learning Community Leader, orientation leader, English teacher, and as a graduate assistant at the Syracuse University Strasbourg Center. Prior to starting graduate school, she worked at the Institute of International Education (IIE) in Washington, DC. In her free time, she enjoys reading, musicals, learning foreign languages, and attempting to be environmentally conscious!
Maren Haas 	Assistant Program Liaison, The N.U.in Program After studying biology in undergrad and spending a semester in Toledo, Spain, Maren's career path took a turn to international education. She spent two years teaching math in Burkina Faso with the Peace Corps. Next, Maren headed for the wilderness of Wyoming to work for the National Outdoor Leadership School, supporting custom backcountry programs. In 2016 Maren earned a Master's in International Education Management from the Middlebury Institute of International Studies. She has supported students find international opportunities as an international programs advisor and traveled with students to seven countries. In her free time, Maren enjoys time with her family, travel, laughing and running!
Brian Sheffer 	Assistant Program Liaison, The N.U.in Program Brian attended Sarah Lawrence College and earned a degree in Liberal Arts in 2010. During his time there, he spent a semester studying at the University of Cape Town in Cape Town, South Africa. This experience had a profound impact on how he saw the world, and reshaped for him, the purpose of travel and intercultural experiences. The experience would serve as a springboard for his professional work in International Education. After Sarah Lawrence, Brian served as a Peace Corps Volunteer in Honduras working on public health initiatives, living in a small village in the south of the country. Upon returning to the U.S., Brian spent some time working with at-risk youth as a mentor and teacher before attending The School for International Training earning his Masters in Intercultural Service, Leadership, and Management in May 2018. For his graduate practicum work, Brian returned to Cape Town to work with a youth capacity-building organization serving the townships in and around Hout Bay. Brian's interest in leading and facilitating international and experiential education programs blossomed while lead three high school programs for The Experiment in International Living to Argentina, Nicaragua & Cuba, and South Africa. He joined The Experiment in a full-time capacity in 2016 working in admissions, recruitment, risk management, and Group Leader training. In addition, Brian has worked on implementing exchange programs with World Learning run in partnership with the U.S. State Department and has led 2 Gap Year Semester Programs for Carpe Diem Education to Central America and Southeast Asia. In the Fall of 2019, he served as a Program Liaison for the N.U.in Program in Sydney, Australia. N.U.in Program International Coordinators

Caitlyn Arnold 	International Coordinator, The N.U.in Program Cait grew up in the North Shore of Massachusetts. From here she began her next chapter as an undergrad at the University of Massachusetts Amherst to study Sociology and Education. During the fall of her junior year, she studied in Florence, Italy. In the heart of Tuscany, she discovered her robust desire for learning and experiencing through travel. Throughout her travels, she enjoyed observing the cultures of each new place she visited, (mostly accomplished by eating like a local). Since her study abroad experience, Cait has been to Europe several times to travel and work abroad throughout Ireland, Edinburgh, Scotland, and London, England. For the last three years, Cait worked for an environmental study abroad organization as part of the Admissions Team, where she had the opportunity to visit Cambodia and Costa Rica. When Cait is home, she spends a lot of time with her pup Millie! Cait also loves to try new recipes, and enjoys time outside no matter the season in New England - she has even learned to ski in the last few years!
Noah Beane 	International Coordinator, The N.U.in Program Growing up within a military family of six, Noah became very familiar with traveling and having to wait awhile for an available table at restaurants from a rather young age. As a child, Noah not only lived in numerous cities along the East Coast of the United States, but also spent a total of four years residing in Germany as well. Now being a young adult, Noah has graduated with honors from Pfeiffer University in May 2019 and achieved a B.S. degree in Business Management and Leadership. With a love for staying active, Noah spent much of his time there as a Lead Student Ambassador, an Orientation Leader, and a member of the men's volleyball team. He studied abroad in Paris, France throughout the entirety of his Junior year and interned abroad in Auckland, New Zealand to conclude his time as an undergraduate student. Noah enjoys long walks on the beach, singing in the shower, and immersing himself in new cultures.

Connor Read 	International Coordinator, The N.U.in Program Connor is passionate about creating intentional, international communities. For the last three years, he has managed outdoor education programs in Japan and facilitated global citizenship programs for students all around the world. Through opportunities that have allowed him to visit over 30 countries, he has listened to so many powerful stories that have challenged him to love our planet (and its people) better than ever before. Connor originally hails from Cape Cod, MA and holds a degree in Social Justice Education. In his spare time, Connor enjoys spontaneous adventures through the mountains, watching a lot of comedy, and expressing himself through writing, filmmaking, and performing.
Amber Reid 	International Coordinator, The N.U.in Program Amber is a Northeastern University Class of 2020 graduate with a BSc. Environmental Science and a minor in Business Analytics. She is from the small island of Bermuda, and in addition to her 5 years spent in Boston has studied in Chile and worked in Spain. While completing her degree at NU, Amber worked with Residential Life, the Facilities Department, and the Office of Global Services. Amber loves to swim, dance, and explore!
Tristan Roman 	International Coordinator, The N.U.in Program Tristen is a native of Traverse City, Michigan (the Cherry Capital of the World) and a 2018 graduate of Central Michigan University with a degree in Psychology. While there he had the opportunity to study abroad in Australia, Denmark, and Scotland, and was heavily involved with CMU's Leadership Camp. Outside of education and travel, Tristen runs a photography business and loves to explore outdoors and exercise! He was also an N.U.in International Coordinator last year in Melbourne, Australia and is excited for another semester with N.U.in!
Katlyne Ryan 	International Coordinator, The N.U.in Program Kate Ryan is a Missouri native who spent her youth growing up in both Kansas City and rural areas of Iowa. Kate stayed in Missouri up through her college education from The University of Missouri. After which she began her journey through Central and South America living in both Panama and Colombia for a few years. Kate loves to travel throughout the world and within the United States. She has spent the last year in the southwest of the United States. Kate loves rock climbing and river rafting trips. She is also passionate about sustainable living, primitive skills, and earth-based learning... but most of all pranks.

N.U.in Program International Coordinators

Phoebe Scott 	International Coordinator, The N.U.in Program Phoebe graduated from Boston University in 2015 with a BA in International Relations. While there, she studied abroad in Dublin for a semester, and extensively traveled the British Isles. She also spent a month abroad in Geneva, where she explored the streets and ate her weight in fondue. She also received her MA from King's College London, and spent a year enjoying all London has to offer. In her down time, she enjoys over-analyzing new movie releases and enjoying a book with a cup of tea (Twining's Lady Grey, with a splash of milk).
Henry Summ 	International Coordinator, The N.U.in Program Henry is originally from Stockholm, Sweden but grew up in Newtown, CT. He graduated from American University in May 2018 with a dual International Studies/Russian Studies degree. While completing his courses, he worked as a Resident Assistant and spent two semesters abroad in St. Petersburg, Russia. Henry is excited to return to staff the N.U.in Program: he was previously an International Coordinator with N.U.in Czech Republic in 2019 and has since been working in the international office at the Czech Technical University in Prague. In his free time, Henry enjoys watching films, reading Chekhov, and playing tabletop games.
Ena Walker 	International Coordinator, The N.U.in Program Ena is a graduate of the University of Georgia '20 with a Master's degree in College Student Affairs Administration. She is originally from Beaufort, North Carolina and is excited to break out of the southeast to enjoy some of the "snow" she keeps hearing about. Ena went to undergrad at the University of North Carolina at Charlotte and served as an Orientation Leader and Panhellenic President. Ena is half Irish and has enjoyed visiting her family in Ireland over the years. Ena loves basically all streaming platforms, traveling and spending time with her loved ones.
Annie Waschko 	International Coordinator, The N.U.in Program Annie is returning for her second round as an International Coordinator after having a blast with her team and her students in Thessaloniki in Fall 2019. She is a graduate of Loyola University Maryland (BA in English) and Newcastle University (MA in Cross-Cultural Communication). While a native of Pennsylvania, Annie has spent extended amounts of time either working or studying in the UK, Thailand, Spain, and Greece. Most recently, she has been working in the field of outdoor education in central Texas. She loves punk rock, open air markets, thrift stores, and weird-themed museums.
Carly Zogg 	International Coordinator, The N.U.in Program Carly graduated from Northeastern University in May 2020 with a Bachelor of Art's degree in International Affairs and Cultural Anthropology. During her time at Northeastern, Carly traveled abroad by participating in N.U.in Dublin, a Dialogue of Civilizations in South Africa, and a co-op at the NATO Defense college in Rome. In addition to her co-op in Rome, she was also able to co-op at two non-profit organizations in Boston called "Beyond Conflict" and the "Rian Immigrant Center." Carly is originally from New Jersey and while she has loved her time in Boston for the past few years, she has plans to move closer to home in New York City in the near future. Aside from school and work, Carly has a passion for soccer, tattoos, traveling, art history and her family's cockapoo Hallie :)
